

California Consumer Privacy Act Notice At Collection

Last Updated on October 17, 2023

Under the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), consumers may be entitled to certain notices and disclosures regarding the collection and use of their personal information. This page is intended to provide Notice at Collection as required under the CCPA.

We may collect personal information from you and use it for specified purposes as explained in detail in our Privacy Policy.

List of the categories of personal information about consumers, including categories of sensitive personal information, to be collected: See section A and section G of our Privacy Policy.

Purpose(s) for which the categories of personal will be and used: See section C of our Privacy Policy.

Whether each category of personal information is sold or shared: See section E of our Privacy Policy.

The length of time Equans North America intends to retain each category of personal information: See section I of our Privacy Policy.

Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information.

If you have any questions or comments about our Privacy Policy, the ways in which we collect and use your personal information, your choices and rights regarding such collection and use, or you wish to exercise your rights under this Policy, please do not hesitate to contact us at: